PREFATORY NOTE.

The present volume is supplementary to the series of thirteen volumes which contain the collected mathematical papers of the late Professor Cayley.

The first part is a list of the titles of the papers, extracted from the tables of contents of the respective volumes and arranged in the order in which the papers occur.

The second part is an index of subjects and authors. It has been made by my friend, Mr. F. Howard Collins, who most kindly volunteered to do this laborious work; my expectation is that the index will be a useful guide to the papers.

It is now ten years since the printing of the series of volumes began. For about the first seven of the years, Professor Cayley himself acted as Editor; since his death, the duty has fallen to me. My steady wish has been that unnecessary delay in the publication of the volumes should be avoided; that the wish has been realised, is largely due to the staff of the University Press. Everything that could be done in the way of simplifying my task and assisting its progress has been done with zealous good-will and cordial cooperation. To each and to all of them my thanks are given for the help which has enabled me to fulfil the duty I undertook at the request of the Syndics.

A. R. FORSYTH.

Notes and References to papers in Volume I.581

Volumes II, III, and IV of the Cambridge Mathematical Journal have on the title pages the dates 1841, 1843, 1845 respectively, and volume VIII of the Cambridge Philosophical Transactions has the date 1849. As each of these volumes extends over more than a single year, I have added the year of publication for the papers 1, 2, . . . , 12. In all other cases, the year of publication is shown by the date on the title page of the volume.
